Jim Han - Teaching Professional

Jim was born in Seoul, South Korea and moved to Vancouver when he was 11 years old. Following a suggestion from his father, it wasn't long after he first picked up a club that Jim discovered the allure of the great game of golf. In no time at all he became enraptured and so began the first love affair of Jim's life. As his game swiftly progressed from strength to strength, it became abundantly clear that this was no fleeting romance, but rather a firm commitment that was destined to develop into his life-long career.

Brett Saunders, a famous Australian-born golf instructor was Jim's greatest inspiration. Under Brett's tutelage, his passion for the game soared, his skills improved and he soon garnered a string of junior tournament titles and trophies.

During his years with Brett, Jim discovered and then understood the mechanics and techniques of golf, he also developed a desire to teach others.

Jim moved to Toronto in 2006 to attend the Professional Golf Management Program at Humber College where he expanded his academic knowledge about the golf industry as a whole. He earned his PGA of Canada card in 2008 and achieved "Class A" status in 2013. He is very happy to be joining the McCleery Golf Academy as an Instructor and he is excited to share his passion for this game with all his students.

Jim is completely bilingual and can teach in both English & Korean.
