Meet our newest Teaching Professional: Gordon Jarvis

Since 2009, Gordon has spent time learning how to help people get better at golf. He has invested time and money learning from many prominent instructors, players and trainers throughout the golf world and enjoys sharing the strategies, mindset, and theory that can help you best.

Gordon became a member of the PGA of Canada in 2016 and placed first in the playability test (also achieving Class A standard scores) at Kings Links GC in Delta, BC. He has done over 4000 lessons in the past few years in Vancouver and has worked with professionals on their games that have played in every major tour including the PGA Tour, Canadian Tour, and many locally on the Vancouver Golf Tour.

Gordon also has helped juniors, high-school golfers in BC and around the USA develop their games and go on to Colleges and Universities on scholarship. Along with this professional experience Gordon has just as much passion for helping a beginner hit their first solid golf shot and develop a game from the fundamentals all the way to advanced scoring techniques.

If you are looking to learn the game, get rid of a slice or hook, not chunk or thin as many golf shots consider having him help you understand why exactly you are not currently able to solve the issues and give you the prescribed solutions to much better golf!
